

Hello Photographers,

Join me this Fall for a new season of inspiring photography courses designed for curious, mature learners. We'll explore fresh techniques, develop your creative voice, and build confidence in your craft. Spaces are limited - reserve your spot now and start the year with renewed photographic energy and community.

1. Nature Photography

What happens when nature photography becomes an exploration of perception, ideas, and visual design? In this 8-week course we'll slow down, look closely and discover the natural world as a source of texture, colour, pattern, form, light and inspiration. Rather than simply documenting what we find, we'll consider how composition, perspective, movement, reflections and other creative techniques can transform nature into your visual style.

This course is designed for the curious photographer seeking to expand their imaginative practice, share ideas, and generate more expressive, personal work. Through focused assignments and thoughtful image critiques, you'll develop a more intentional approach to making nature photographs, expand on your visual language, and create photographs that are uniquely your own.

Tuesday, Sept. 29 – Nov. 17, 2026 (8-weeks)

6:30 - 9:00 PM, Online via Zoom, Max. 12 students

Tuition: $325

2. Beyond the Lens: Developing Ideas, Voice, and Portfolio

If your goal is to explore photographic expression and create meaningful bodies of work, this course is for you. Over eight engaging weeks you'll move beyond taking individual photographs and expand on ideas that interest you, exploring what you want your photography to communicate. Through creative exercises, self-directed projects, image discussions, and constructive feedback, you'll strengthen your photographic voice and turn ideas into cohesive, purposeful series. Together, we'll consider how and where to share, present, or exhibit your photography, and where your creative journey can take you next.

Wednesday, Sept. 30 – Nov. 18, 2026 (8-weeks)

6:30 - 9:00 PM, Online via Zoom, Max. 12 students

Tuition: $325

3. Exploring Cyanotypes

Cyanotypes have a timeless appeal and in recent years have flourished as a modern art form with endless possibilities for bold and imaginative experimentation. In this 4-week course, you'll discover the basic tools through real-time demonstrations for immediate results to build a strong foundation. From there, we'll move into wet cyanotypes, multiple exposures, digital negatives and other creative methods for making distinctive prints. Each week you'll take on assignments to explore new approaches, sharing your work in group reviews to highlight the range of possibilities within the process. By the end, you'll leave with both a collection of unique cyanotypes and the inspiration to continue developing your own expressive work in this timeless medium.

Saturday, October 3 – 31, 2025 (4 weeks) No class Oct. 10
9:30 AM – 12:00 PM, Online via Zoom
